Qualified Reimbursements

Qualified Education Expenses for Education Credits

Qualified expenses are amounts paid for tuition, fees and other related expenses for a student that are required for enrollment or attendance at an eligible educational institution.

Eligible expenses also include student activity fees you are required to pay to enroll in or attend the school. For example, an activity fee that all students are required to pay to fund all on-campus student organizations and activities.

Expenses for books, supplies and equipment the student needs for a course of study are included in qualified education expenses even if it is not paid to the school. For example, the cost of a required course book bought from an off-campus bookstore is a qualified education expense.

Expenses that Do Not Qualify

The following are not qualified education expenses:

- Room and board
- Insurance
- Medical expenses (including student health fees)
- Transportation
- Similar personal, living or family expenses.

Sports, games, hobbies, or non-credit course

Expenses for sports, games, hobbies, or non-credit courses do not qualify for the scholarship or the tuition and fees thereof, except when the course or activity is part of the student's degree program.
